Sports Day

Thank you very much for all of your support during this weeks events. I am sure you will have seen first hand what well behaved and kind hearted children we have in school. We saw some fantastic sporting achievements with so many children that had smiles on their faces the entire time.

Thank you for ensuring that the events went without a hitch, we really appreciate it.

Internet Safety

What parents need to know about ONLINE CHALLENGES

MENTAL HEALTH & WELLBEING
As well as feeling the pressure to earn a viral amount of likes, some challenges can be potentially harmful to children. Many are designed to be funny or entertaining, but some can be harmful to mental health. Some challenges can be a long-term mental health issue.

FOMO - FEAR OF MISSING OUT
The fear of missing out (FOMO) is a strong emotional experience, particularly during the teenage years. The pressure of online challenges can lead to FOMO, which can be harmful to mental health. Some challenges can be a long-term mental health issue.

STRIVING FOR LIKES
A study by the Children's Commissioner of the UK found that children are more likely to be influenced by likes than by their own feelings. This can lead to children striving for likes, which can be harmful to mental health. Some challenges can be a long-term mental health issue.

VARYING LEVELS OF RISK
As a parent or carer, it's important to be a balanced and considerate parent and not everything you see on the internet is for you. Some challenges can be a long-term mental health issue.

Top Tips for Parents

COMMUNICATION & MONITORING
An open conversation is the best. Children's lives are full of fun and excitement. It's important to have a conversation with your child about online safety. Some challenges can be a long-term mental health issue.

SETTING UP EFFECTIVE PARENTAL CONTROLS
Parental controls can be a useful tool for monitoring your child's online activity. Some challenges can be a long-term mental health issue.

VALIDATE SOURCES
It's important to check the source of any information you see online. Some challenges can be a long-term mental health issue.

FACING REALITY
It's important to remember that online challenges are just a game. Some challenges can be a long-term mental health issue.

THINK BEFORE ACTING
Before posting anything online, think about whether it's something you would be happy to see on your own profile. Some challenges can be a long-term mental health issue.

REPORTING & BLOCKING
If you see a challenge that you think is harmful, report it to the relevant authorities. Some challenges can be a long-term mental health issue.

Dates for the Diary

I am very aware that the past two years have been a challenge for you all and that we have not been able to give you the normal amount of notice for events in school. This has been because we are still having staffing issues as well as dealing with the after effects of covid in school - including long covid. I do apologise for any inconvenience caused.

As a school, we are trying to take on board any comments and are always striving to make Christ Church the best it can possibly be and really want parents to be involved as much as possible. In order to try and ensure that we give enough notice next year, we will plan out major events for academic year 22/23 and share them with you prior to the school holidays. We will then continue to share the next terms dates as reminders in the Friday letter. I really hope that this enables you to be able to attend all the events you would like to.
